SACCO-VANZETTI MUST PAY PENALTY

FOR KILLING PAYMASTER NEAR BOSTON 7 YEARS AGO

The Most Notorious Crime of the Century At Last To be Expiated On the Gallows—Radicals Tried To Enlist Sympathy of Anarchists Thruout the World, Even Demonstrations Were Staged In Their Behalf.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller Wednesday night refused executive clemency to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, sentenced to death for the murder of a shoe factory paymaster and his guard in South Braintree, April 15, 1920.

The governor's decision, announced at 11:25 concluded with these words: "As a result of my investigation I find no sufficient justification for executive intervention."

"I believe with the jury, that these men, Sacco and Vanzetti, were guilty and that they had a fair trial. I furthermore believe that there was no justifiable reason for giving them a new trial."

"I realized, at the outset, that there were many sober minded and conscientious men and women who were genuinely troubled about the guilt or innocence of the accused and the fairness of the trial."

"I believe that I could best reassure these honest doubters by having a committee conduct an investigation fairly independent of mine, their report to be made to me and to be of help in reaching correct conclusions."

"The inquiry that I have conducted has had to do with the following question: Was the jury trial fair? Were the accused entitled to a new trial? Are they guilty or not guilty? As to the first question, complaint has been made that the defendants were prosecuted and convicted because they were anarchists."

"As a matter of fact, the issue of anarchy was brought in by them as an explanation of their suspicious conduct."

"I have consulted with every member of the jury now alive, 11 in number. They considered the judge fair; that he gave them no indication of his own opinion in the case."

"I see no evidence of prejudice in his conduct of the trial."

"The allegation has been made that conditions in the court room were prejudicial to the accused. After careful inquiry of the jury and others I find no evidence to support this allegation."

"I find the jurors were thoroughly honest men and that they were reluctant to find those men guilty, but were forced to do so on the evidence."

"The charge of the judge was satisfactory to the counsel for the accused and no exceptions were taken to it. The supreme judicial court for the commonwealth has considered such of the more than 250 exceptions taken during the course of the trial as counsel for the accused chose to argue and overruled them all, thus establishing that the proceedings were without legal flaw."

"I have read the record and examined many witnesses and the jury men to see from a layman's standpoint whether the trial was fairly conducted. I am convinced that it was."

"I give no weight to the Madeiros confession. It is popularly supposed he confessed to committing this crime. In his testimony to me he could not recall the details or describe the neighborhood. He further more stated that the government had double crossed him and he proposes to double cross the government."

A criminal case which has echoed thruout the world, when Frederick A. Parmenter, paymaster at the shoe factory of the Slater & Morrill Co., in South Braintree, Mass.,

chusetts, and his guard, Alexander Berardelli, were shot to death at the factory April 15, 1920. Bandits who had driven to the factory in an automobile seized the factory payroll of several thousand dollars, which Parmenter had brought from a bank, and escaped.

Sacco and Vanzetti entered the case with their arrest on charges of murder May 5, 1920. Almost immediately there started the efforts to spring about their liberation, which bring about their liberation, which and extended to Europe, Central and South America.

There occurred a series of demonstrations in foreign countries by sympathizers with Sacco and Vanzetti, some of them accompanied by the placing of bombs in the vicinity of the American embassies.

Before his indictment for murder Vanzetti had been convicted of the attempted robbery of a shoe factory paymaster in Bridgewater and sentenced to a term of 12 to 15 years.

Seventh Mystery Fire at Soldiers' Home

For the seventh time a mysterious fire broke out at the Soldiers' home at Sawtelle, Calif., and the governor of the home, Col. John A. Hadley, believes the blazes are of incendiary origin. This time barracks No. 2 was partly destroyed, the loss being $7,000. Authorities think there may be an arson gang in the home.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Cincinnati—When Miss Bertha Dewald, 23, becomes the bride next Wednesday of Ferdinand W. Lang, 25, vulcanizer, the state will lose a material witness.

Miss Dewald is under $5,000 bond to appear for the State when it investigates for grand jury action a murder charge against Lang in the slaying of Ormond Wheeler, of Piqua on a country road during the Elks' convention here.

Logan—The city council ordered the sale of residue of the Hocking canal lands in the city limits. A committee comprised of the mayor, service director and city auditor will proceed with the sale.

London—Petitions are being circulated at Mechanicsburg asking that the village council submit to voters plans for the construction of a municipal water works system.

Cincinnati—The body of Albert Gosmeyer, 17, recovered from the Ohio river yesterday was returned here for burial. The boy drowned in the river Sunday while attempting to swim across to the Kentucky shore. The body was found by his brother.

Columbus—All insurance companies operating in Ohio today were prohibited from writing "riot and civil commotion insurance." The order which becomes effective immediately was issued by William C. Safford, superintendent of insurance. Safford explained that it was necessitated "because of conditions which have developed over the state."

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Funeral services for Ellen Loraine Stewart will be held from the Albaugh chapel Friday morning at 10:30 a. m., with Rev. E. S. Toensmeier in charge of the service.

LAI D TO REST WITH SOLEMN CEREMONIES

All That Was Mortal of Mrs. B. F. Yates in Beautiful Forest Cemetery.

Solemn and impressive were funeral rites when all that was mortal of Mrs. Benjamin F. Yates was laid to rest in beautiful Forest cemetery.

The casket was surrounded by a rich profusion of the choicest flowers of hothouse and garden, eloquent tributes of loving friends from far and near, and the cheerlessness of the grave was relieved by nature's predominant color and brightened by the season's sweetest blossoms.

The services at the home and graveside were conducted by Rev. E. S. Toensmeier, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Professor M. C. Warren, superintendent of the Pickaway county schools, a personal friend of the family and of the deceased, pronounced an eloquent eulogy on the life and character of the deceased and gave compelling reasons for our belief in the immortality of the soul.

The pallbearers were George W. Littleton, George B. Roth, George G. Adkins, Harry Johnson, Charles H. Werlin and C. C. Chappellear.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were; Mrs. Anna C. White, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Werlin and daughter, Miss Martha, and son, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. George White, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Yates and sons; George and Jack, and daughter, Betty Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson Mr. and Mrs. Dale Neiswander, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. White, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shadwick, Mrs. Mary Norman, Mrs. Simon Carpenter, Miss Stella Limlie, Miss Nan Cox and D. C. Hornbeck, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Fuller and daughter, Miss Lucile, and Miss Lizzie White, of Delaware; Mr. and Mrs. Thornton White and daughter, Mary Jane, and George Yates, of Springfield; Mrs. R. T. Dennis and son, Teddy, of Mt. BARNS BURN STORM NEAR LAURELVILLE

Two barns filled with hay, grain and farming implements, owned by Sherman Consolver, were destroyed by fire Tuesday night three miles southeast of Laurelville.

It is thought that the barns were struck by lightning as a storm raged at about the time, 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Consolver's loss is estimated at $3,500. He carried $2,500 insurance in the Hummel & Plum agency.

Valuable Diabetic Foods

SUFFERERS from diabetes, tired of a restricted diet thought that when Dr. F. C. Banting of Toronto, Canada, discovered insulin, they would be able to eat what they liked. Instead, Dr. Banting says that diet is even more important when insulin is used.

In diabetic cases the body is unable to utilize the carbohydrate properly, and the amount a patient is able to take care of each day, must be scientifically weighed and measured. Pure carbohydrates are sugars and starches. Because fruits and vegetables contain very small and dilute amounts of carbohydrates, due to the large proportion of water and fibre they contain, they are of great value in feeding the diabetic. Canners are putting up fruits without sugar, and vegetables without salt. Some that are prepared in this way are beans, apple sauce, blackberries, cherries, peaches, pears, peas, raspberries, strawberries, rhubarb, spinach, tomatoes, cauliflower. Here are recipes for using some of these specially prepared fruits and vegetables.

Some Diabetic Recipes

Strawberry or Peach Whip: Beat the white of one egg stiffly, add crushed fruit, (get the fruits canned without sugar) saccharine and lemon juice to taste and beat again. Serve very cold.

Pear Salad: Place sections of canned pears (get the ones canned without sugar) on crisp lettuce leaves and serve with diabetic dressing. Small balls of cheese, either plain or dipped in chopped walnuts, may be added to this. Diabetic dressing is made by substituting for olive oil and sugar, mineral oil and saccharine in the usual recipe for mayonnaise.

Scalloped Tomatoes: Melt butter and add cracker crumbs, salt and pepper, then the specially canned tomatoes. Brown in oven.

You are always sure there's romance every place except where you happen to be.

Apparently the 'war to end war' that we entered about ten years ago is not yet over.

This Kitchen Saves Housewives Hours of Unnecessary Labor

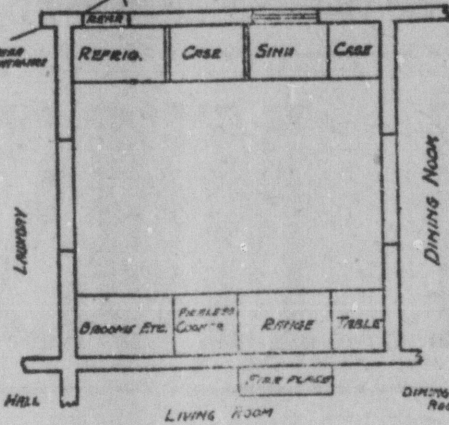

By DR. MARTHA MANNING
Home Refrigeration Expert

Outside service doors for admitting both ice and food into this model small kitchen do their bit to make caring for a home lighter work for the housewife. No longer must she spend morning hours indoors to make sure that deliveries of supplies are received and cared for properly.

The refrigerator is so placed that its outside delivery door is near the rear entrance. This convenience is a feature of nearly all homes now being built, and one that none should be without. It has two great advantages: The housewife need never enter the kitchen and though the entire family be absent for a day or a week the refrigerator may be iced regularly and food kept in perfect condition. Home refrigeration of this kind is almost automatic, as there is no mechanism to require supervision or get out of order. A delivery service door for groceries is another device for saving time and labor. It can well be located near the ice service door, and relieves the housewife of paying special attention to these deliveries.

This kitchen offers the utmost in utility and convenience. Not only does it enable the housewife to absent herself during hours when the kitchen ordinarily would require her attention, but it makes for comfortable and efficient work. Time and effort are saved by grouping the refrigerator with the sink and cupboards on the cool side of the room, where food may be prepared. The range and table on the opposite side form another complete operating unit for cooking.

Tung Oil Preparedness

IN view of the present disturbances in China and their probable serious effect upon American imports from that country, it is fortunate for the paint and varnish industry of the United States that tung oil trees are now being grown with increasing success in Florida and other Southern states. For tung oil is used in America as the base of practically all modern waterproof, quick-drying varnishes. It is pressed from the nuts contained in this tree's large fruit.

Hitherto, about 80% of China's tung oil output has been imported into this country. Anticipating a crisis when it might become impossible to import it in sufficient quantities, some tung oil tree seed was obtained about twenty years ago from China, and propagated into seedlings which were distributed in several Southern states.

The most interesting results were obtained from some trees grown at the University of Florida, Gainesville. These are now nearly 30 feet high, with a spread of about 28 feet. Nearly 100,000 seedlings from them were planted by the Educational Bureau of the American Paint and Varnish Manufacturers' Association, with the idea of showing the farmers the industry's complete faith in the project. As a result, there are now about 3,000 acres of tung oil trees in America. It is estimated that about 50,000 acres might, within a few years, provide sufficient tung oil for the entire American industry.

Lumbang oil trees, a different species of the tung oil tree, flourish in the Philippines and Hawaiian Islands, but no systematic attempt has yet been made to collect the crop.

Delightful Cold Summer Drinks Made With Milk and Fruit Juices

The greater demand for liquid in the summer time, is to meet a physiological need. The heat regulating system of our bodies requires water for its functioning. We demand drinks that quench the thirst, and, at the same time, by their coolness lower the body temperature. Drinks may not only fulfill these requirements, but serve as carriers of food material as well. Such drinks are ideal for summer use.

The appetite lags in the summer time, though the need for food, of course, still exists. At this season, we are more apt to be careless in selecting our food than in the colder weather and an adequacy of some of the food essentials may be lacking.

A proper selection of summer drinks will be a great help in overcoming this neglect. Cold combinations of fruit juices and milk are delightful ways of introducing these essentials and at the same time supplying the extra liquid that the body needs.

Orange Nog
2 cups orange juice
1 1/2 cups chilled evaporated milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups ice water

Dissolve sugar in orange juice and chill. When ready to serve pour orange juice slowly into milk diluted with water. Shake vigorously in a mason fruit jar. Serve ice cold. Yield: 6 servings.

Iced Cocoa
3 tbsp. cocoa (2 tsp. for children)
2 tbsp. sugar
1/2 cup hot water
Few grains salt
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk diluted with 1/2 cup water
1/4 tsp. vanilla
Scald the diluted milk in a double boiler. Mix cocoa, sugar and salt and add the hot water. Cook over a low flame—ten to fifteen minutes, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Add the scalded diluted milk, return to double boiler and continue cooking for ten minutes. Add vanilla. Chill and serve with whipped cream. Whipped cream sauce and chopped nuts may top iced cocoa. Yield: 4 servings.

Hungarian Punch
Juice of 2 lemons
2 tsp. tea
1/2 tsp. almond extract
1 quart cold water
Pour cold water over tea and let stand for five hours. Strain, add lemon juice and almond extract, chill before serving. Yield: 4 servings.

Egg Nog
2 eggs
Pinch salt
3 tbsp. sugar
1/4 cup berry or cherry juice
2 cups ice cold evaporated milk diluted with 2 1/2 cups water
Few grains nutmeg
Add salt to egg white and beat till stiff. Beat yolk and add fruit juice and sugar. Combine diluted milk and egg. Pour into a tall glass, sprinkle top with chopped nuts and serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

Prune Nog
1 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk
Combine milk and water. Have diluted milk and prune juice very cold. Add juice slowly to milk. Pour over cracked ice. Yield: 6 servings.

Pineapple Lemonade
2 cups grated pineapple and juice
3 tbsp. lemon or lime juice
2 cups ice water
Serve with chilled ice. Yield: 6 servings.

The various sections of America agree on almost everything except the proper thing to be ashamed of.

"Rialto's" Real Meaning
The word "Rialto" is a corruption
of the two words "Ribo Alto," which literally mean "deep river." The corrupted form was applied as the name
of an island in the Adriatic sea, which became the business center of the group of islands occupied by the city of Venice. By the process of the association of ideas the term "Rialto" is used as the synonym for the business
center of the city.

Lesson for August 7
DAVID SPARES SAUL

LESSON TEXT—I Sam., chap. 26.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be not overcome of
evil, but overcome evil with good.
PRIMARY TOPIC—David's Kind-
ness to His Enemy.
JUNIOR TOPIC—David Shows Mercy.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-
IC—How to Treat Those Who Wrong
Us.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—Overcoming Evil With Good.

1. Saul in Pursuit of David (vv. 1-3).
Ever since David took his departure
from Jonathan (ch. 20), when that crowning act of friendship was shown,
Saul had been hunting him as a wild animal. He now pursues him with 3,000 chosen men. David flees from place to place and is in hiding as an outlaw. Sometimes he is in the enemy's country doing disreputable things. This is the period of his schooling, which fitted him to be the future eminent king. It was a bitter period in his life, but God sent him to
this school and adapted the instruction to his needs. David could never have been the broad man that he was had he not been prepared in this crucible of bitter experience. He learned many lessons, among which
may be mentioned:

1. His own weakness. It was necessary that he be humbled under the sense of his infirmities. Before any one is fit to be raised to a position of prominence he must be made to know
his limitations and weaknesses. Unless a man has learned this lesson,
sudden elevation to power will utterly
ruin him.

2. His dependence upon God. David's many miraculous escapes caused
him to realize that the Lord had redeemed him out of his adversity.

3. He learned the country and people over which he was to rule. By knowing the grievous afflictions which Saul had heaped upon the people, he could sympathize and remove them.

4. He learned the magnanimity of self-control. This a man must know before he can be a true king. He that ruleth his spirit is better than he that taketh a city (Prov. 16:32).

II. Saul in David's Hands (vv. 4-20).
1. David sends out spies (v. 4).
This he did to find out whether Saul
was come in very deep.

2. David in Saul's camp (vv. 5-11).
He took with him Abishai and went
in the night to where Saul was sleeping. Abishai asked to be allowed to kill Saul, but David forbade him because Saul was the Lord's anointed.

3. David takes Saul's spear and cruze of water (vv. 12, 13). Once before at Engedi (chap. 24) David spared Saul's life. Now again he was at his mercy. This David did that he might show tangible evidence to the king that he had no evil intent.

4. David taunts Abner, the king's bodyguard (vv. 14-16). He calls to Abner and taunts him for his listlessness—his failure to watch over the Lord's anointed, the evidence of which is the cruse and spear in his hands.

5. David reasons with Saul (vv.
17-20). David reasoned with Saul,
showing that he had nothing but good intentions toward the king. He asked that he would show what wrong he had done, or what evil intent was in his heart. If the Lord was directing Saul he was willing to appease His wrath with an offering. If Saul was only hunting him because wicked men
were urging him, a curse should be pronounced upon them. David is very humble and begs Saul to relent, for surely if he had any wicked purpose
he would not have saved his life twice
when the Lord had placed Saul wholly at his mercy. David recognized the fact that the Lord had delivered Saul
into his hands not to kill, but to save.
He did not kill, neither did he allow
his servants to kill.

III. Saul's Confession (vv. 21-25).
1. He confessed that he had sinned.
The sad feature about his confession
is that it lacked conviction, for he
went right on sinning.

2. He confessed that he had played the fool and erred exceedingly. We see about us daily many using such expressions, but still they go on repeating their sins. David shows his magnanimity of spirit, however, in delivering the cruse and spear to Saul's servant. He knew that Saul's confession was not genuine, so he was afraid to go near. He still appeals to Saul's kindness to him, and they part
never to meet again.

RIDES HORSEBACK
At Seventy—Birthday Canter
Arouses Fond Memories.

Fifty-two years ago an 18-

FIND AUDUBON BIRD PAINTINGS ON WALL

Priceless Art Treasure May Be Lost.

New York.—Hitherto undiscovered paintings of bird life by John James Audubon, world famous ornithologist and artist, who died in 1831, are believed to be concealed beneath paint and dingy wall paper on the plaster walls of his old studio in the Audubon mansion at One Hundred and Fifth street and the Hudson river. It was learned recently.

James McGrath, a railroad worker who occupies the first floor of the now rickety frame house and uses the former studio for a kitchen, uncovered the paintings several years ago. Having no idea of their origin or their value he covered them over and perhaps obliterated them forever with lead paint and wall paper.

McGrath, who has lived with his family in the old Audubon house for seventeen years, cheerfully admitted that he had painted out the scores of bird pictures and sketches which had adorned his kitchen walls.

Calls Them Right Pretty.

"Sure," he said, "I remember them well. Soon after we moved here I took off the dirty old wall paper in the kitchen—several layers of it—and underneath on the plaster were all kinds of bird pictures. Every sort of bird I ever saw and a whole lot I never saw, painted in all kinds of colors. There was a whole bunch of them and a bowl of fruit painted right there over the sink. They were right pretty. "About two years ago, though, I got tired of looking at them, so I got a can of good lead paint with a little linseed mixed in and put a nice coat of paint all over the walls. A little later I got tired of the paint and put up that green wall paper. Those birds are dead now all right—flood away for good."

Alexander A. Kelly, an expert on the restoration of paintings, made an examination of the walls of the studio a few days ago. From such study of the plaster as he could make, where the wall paper was peeled or abraded, he concluded that the paint used by McGrath had aged to such a point that its removal might at the same time remove or deface the paintings beneath. Whether any recovery or restoration is possible cannot be learned without a thorough examination.

Reginald Bolton, Bolton, whose grandfather was a close friend of Audubon, and who himself is a historian and an authority on Audubon's life, was questioned about the paintings.

"McGrath's statement checks exactly with what I have heard from my grandfather and with rumors which from time to time have come to me," Mr. Bolton said. "Audubon was fond of his studio with bird sketches, often as well executed as his best work. And I have heard that at the time of his death through some unpardonable oversight, these sketches were papered over."

"I have often thought of trying to confirm the report, but have been in other places. Further information McGrath's own statement in the matter seems conclusive. If the pictures cannot be restored it is a tragedy."

Mansion to Be Destroyed

The memory of Audubon is revered by thousands of bird lovers and naturalists throughout this country and abroad. The Audubon societies, the junior department of which alone is said to have several hundred thousand members, was organized in his honor in 1896. His drawings of birds in a complete series of life-sized colored figures, published in his "Birds in America" in 1838, marked an epoch in ornithology. Original copies of this work, in good condition, bring today thousands of dollars.

The Audubon mansion, nearly a century old, is doomed to destruction within a few months by the straightening of Riverside drive at One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street. Audubon park and "Garage Village" will be eliminated, and a series of modern apartment houses will rise upon the site.

Justice of King's BenchRanks High in Dignity

London.—There are few positions of greater dignity in England than that of justice of the king's bench. When on circuit the justice is treated with the ceremony usually accorded to royalty. He is deemed the first man in the county, and the bells of the circuit tower ring and a bugle announces the opening of his assize court.

Yet the justice's salary has been at the same figure for nearly two centuries. When it was first set in the eighteenth century at £5,000 a year it was deemed a princely recompense, but with the decrease in the value of money and the present British income tax it is considered not so generous.

Firemen, Save My Cow,"Farmer's Call—They Did

Jefferson City, Mo.—The most unusual order the fire department has received came recently when Jim Roark telephoned:

"Come rescue my cow."

The department made a hasty run, expecting a fire at the big dairy barn, and found that the order had come from the cow had become mired in mud.

Only the cow's head and shoulders were showing above the mud. The animal was finally removed.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION WAS INTERESTINGStorm Water Sewers to be Built—Fines Collected—Ordinances Passed.

The city council met in regular session Wednesday evening, August 3, with President John C. Goeller, presiding and the following members present; Baker, Kline, Landenberger, Leist, Marion, Shaner.

Mr. Baker, as chairman, reported that the committee had investigated the matter of painting the Memorial hall and would now recommend that the proper officers make a contract for said work. Mr. Baker also reported that the committee had considered the request of Amos Wilkerson for permission to construct a curb along his premises on Pickaway street, so would now recommend that permission be granted, providing the curb is placed as near the lot line as possible. On motion of Mr. Leist this report was received.

Mr. Leist, as chairman, reported that the committee had investigated the application of the Norfolk and Western railway to construct a switch over Ohio street and Maplewood avenue in order to reach the grounds of the Mid-West Box company, and would report by returning the ordinance providing for this improvement with the recommendation that it be passed. On motion of Mr. Baker this report was received.

Mayor Fitzpatrick reported fines, licenses and fees collected during the month of July in the sum of $559.40 and on motion of Mr. Marion this report was received and placed on file.

Service Director Schneider reported that he had taken up the matter of repairing South Court street, with the officials of the railroads, and on motion of Mr. Shaner the service director was requested to ask the railway company to repair the entire width of Court street from the end of the paved street to a point two feet south of the south gate. On motion of Mr. Marion the service committee reported the matter of investigating the application of the Citizens Telephone company for an increase in rates, was then referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council.

A communication from the city auditor reporting the amount of the duplicate of the city in connection with the construction of storm water sewers on Pickaway street and on Pickaway, Ohio, Washington and Clinton streets and Half avenue was received and placed on file as was also a communication that the estimated life of the improvements of a storm water sewer on Pickaway and Mill streets and on Pickaway, Ohio, Washington and Clinton streets and Half avenue would be twenty-five years, was received and placed on record.

An ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds of the city for the purpose of improving Pickaway street by the construction of a storm water sewer thereon and a lateral on Mill street, in the sum of $6750 was passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds of the city for the purpose of improving Pickaway, Ohio, Washington and Clinton streets and Half avenue by the construction of a storm water sewer in the sum of $16,750 was passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance granting the Norfolk & Western Railway company the right to construct a switch over Maplewood avenue and Ohio street was passed under suspension of the rules.

Mr. Shaner offered a motion which was seconded, that the question as to whether the city will accept the bequest made by Frank P. Berger for the building of a hospital in the city be referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council. This motion carried and President Goeller appointed Mr. Shaner as chairman of this committee.

The matter of extending the city water mains on Clinton street and Weldon avenue was referred to the committee on department of public service.

"Auto's" Derivation

The word automobile was taken from the Greek "auto," meaning self, plus the Latin "mobills," meaning movable. It is of French origin and is an adjective used as a noun. In its first usage it was applied only to pleasure vehicles or carriages. The term was created to meet the sudden demand for a word to describe the horseless, or self-propelled vehicle.

PICKAWAY CLUB PROGRESSING.

The Pickaway Township 4-H Clothing club held its eighth meeting at the Pickaway township centralized school building all day July 29.

With the view in mind to practice demonstrations we worked diligently all day.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Virginia Anderson, and for the first time this year the roll-call found two absentees. The devotionals were in charge of the leader, Miss Nettie S. Rader. Plans were made to go to the club campfire, picnic which was held August 3. The Penny drill increased the amount in our treasury 26 cents. An order of 30 cents was drawn on the treasury for drafting paper. The meeting adjourned to meet all day, August 5, at the school building.

Fifty-four answered to the roll call. Lunch was served by the regular August committee and a social hour followed.

Home Variety Modern Idea

There are scores of excavated homes in Pompeii, varying somewhat in size, but almost identical in the arrangement of rooms and courtyards. Except for minor details, one may be said in describing any particular house, to be describing them all. The modern home is quite the opposite of this.

AMUSEMENTS

The stimulating vigor of Zane Grey stories plus an invariable spirit of romance that fires the imagination make her genuine entertainment when they are translated to the screen.

So it has proved with "Drums of the Desert" the latest of the Zane Greys adapted from his "Desert Bound" to reach the Met theater. And like most of the really worth-while Zane Grey films, this is a Paramount picture directed by John Waters, whose reputation has been firmly established by such productions as "Man of the Forest" and "The Mysterious Rider."

While in no sense a sequel to "The Vanishing American" that classic of the American Indian "Drums of the Desert" is very much in the nature of a successor. It was made, we are told, in exactly the same locale. In the current production, while the story is basically concerned with the Indians, in that the machinations of unscrupulous whites to obtain possession of the Indian oil lands afford the plot's menace, the action is seen through the eyes of the white principals. There is John Curry, friend of the Indians, who manfully endeavors to frustrate a conspiracy against them; and then there are Mary Manton and Professor Manton, her father, innocent bystanders who are drawn into the vortex together with their companions, Painless Perkins and Hi-Lo.

Always in the background are the Indians, guarding their sacred altars from invasion. Walter Baxter as John Curry is refreshingly convincing. The somewhat strange to see Warner Baxter in western garb, it is vastly becoming. To his characterization as the friend of the red men he brings a sympathetic interest. Marietta Miller, it will be remembered, was brought to this country thru an arrangement with UFA. It's a bit ironical that her first screen role should be in so typical an American drama as "Drums of the Desert" but she seems to have enjoyed her initiation thoroughly. Ford Sterling enacts his usual funny self while Wallace MacDonald, the heavy, is an effective as always.

GOOD WATER FOR FARM HOMES

Is An Absolute Necessity—Must Be Pure and Free of Disease Germs.

Water is necessary to life. Water free from disease-producing agents is necessary to health. With the exception of the method of disposing of human excreta, the farm water supply has generally a more important bearing on the health of the household than any other single detail in daily life.

Water is used for many purposes on the farm. As far as possible it should be suitable for all purposes for which it is to be used. Its most important and vital use, however, is for drinking and cooking, and most important of its qualities are those of healthfulness and safety. It is desirable that the water be clear and cool, that it have no objectionable odor or taste, and that it be free from any excess of mineral substances which make it hard and unsuitable for washing. It is essential that it be free from agents which produce disease.

In providing a new water supply, or improving an existing supply, great care should be taken to locate, construct, and operate the supply so that no human or animal filth can in any way enter it and pollute the water.

The United States Public Health Service has issued a bulletin on Good Water for Farm Homes, which contains helpful advice in protecting the water supply of farm homes from pollution. Anyone desiring a copy of this publication, should write to the "Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.," and ask for a copy of Public Health Bulletin No. 70.

Goes Back to Old Rome

Vitruvius was an architect of Rome, engaged in the practice of his profession a few years before the beginning of the Christian era. He published the book which bears his name about B. C. 25. Vitruvius mentions that floors of oak were nailed with iron nails. Oak floors today are nailed with steel cut or wire cut nails—through the side tongue—known as blind nailing.

Wool Sold as Cheese

A previous experience caused a recent auction of wool in London to be postponed because of fog. On one occasion, in 1812, fog was so thick that a large quantity of wool was sold as cheese, the wool market being closed, and so it will be henceforth during heavy fogs, according to a correspondent of the Sydney Bulletin.

The "Right" Oil May Be Wrong

The oil you always use may not be the right oil for your car today. And the right oil for today may not be correct a year from today. As your car grows older—your engine clearances increase. And you must change to heavier bodied oil.

We prescribe Sinclair Opaline Motor Oils in different grades to meet the changing condition of your engine. Consult the Sinclair Recommendation Index—see you are using the best lubricant for your car as it is today.

SUMMERIs the Best Time To Reduce One's Weight.

Now is the time for all women who wish to reduce to make their most determined efforts, declares Eileen Bourne, beauty expert, in an article in this week's Liberty. "Hot weather is the stout woman's friend," the writer asserts. "In winter," Miss Bourne explains, "it requires great effort to exercise in the midst of bad weather or to forego buttered toast with afternoon tea and hot puddings with dinner. But in summer, exercise is attractive and appetite is at its lowest ebb. "One good workout a day," the writer continues, "removes soft and flabby curves surely and soundly. As for that reduction diet, it is positively a pleasure in summer. Non-fattening green vegetables are so fresh and abundant that one can almost live solely upon them. Furthermore, fattening things are too closely associated with the heat they generate to tempt one."

SCIENCEStudies Pork As Source of Protein Food.

According to experiments by H. H. Mitchell of the University of Illinois, reported in a recent issue of the Journal of Home Economics, ham, along with other pork cuts, ranks high as a source of protein. This is explained by Professor Mitchell as being due to the relatively low amount of connective tissue in the ham.

There was a time when protein was protein, no matter what its source—the possibility of a difference in quality was not taken into account. Now science recognizes that there is a decided difference in the biological value of protein from different foods. It is not enough just to include protein in the diet, it must be protein which is of good quality.

All animal foods are superior to vegetable foods as sources of protein in the diet. Because such vegetables as peas and beans are rich in crude protein, we are deceived into accepting them as "meat substitutes." Professor Mitchell says that these foods are relatively unimportant as sources of protein because they lose so much of their nitrogen in the digestion processes.

Professor Mitchell further says that the meats and meat products are pre-eminent among the animal foods as sources of protein. Although milk and eggs do not lose so much nitrogen in digestion, yet the high protein content of meats more than makes up for their greater losses in metabolism. And among the different meats, ham ranks at the top.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

About twenty-eight members of the Business and Professional Women's Club were delightfully entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. H. B. Given on the Lancaster pike. Mrs. Mary G. If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, if we imbue them with principles, and with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men, we engross on those tablets something which will brighten all eternity.—Daniel Webster

Wherever there is advancement there must be a pace maker.

To set the pace in obtaining greater stock-car speed, requires first setting the pace in designing improved stock cars and building them better and more durable than cars have ever been constructed before.

There was a time when the announcement of a "new model" by a manufacturer was accepted by the public as sufficient proof of new car values.

But not so today. A new model means nothing if unaccompanied by new PROOFS of better performance.

The car itself must be the answer.

E. L. Cord

Who Killed Cock Robin?

Two or three automobile manufacturers today claim to build "America's Fastest Stock Car."

Auburn claims 80 miles an hour for its 8-88 stock car. (This claim has no strings tied to it).

Auburn proves its 8-88 stock car is capable of 90 miles per hour.

At Salem, N. H. Speedway July 4th an Auburn 8-88 won the 100 mile stock car race with the remarkable average of 89.19 miles per hour. As a contender, was a German make of car costing $13,000 of much greater piston displacement and equipped with super-charger.

Also in a recent stock car race, open to the entire automobile industry, at Atlantic City Speedway under American Automobile Association sanction, the two leading cars finished only one-fifth of one second apart... 75 miles in about 52 minutes. Amazing performance for both cars. Especially for the Auburn stock car, the list price of which is $1500 less.

Such performance proves conclusively that Auburn cars are perfectly engineered and built or something would have prevented this sustained performance.

A stock car that is capable of sustained, high-speed with unfaltering efficiency and without injuring itself, will not only do your ordinary requirements smoother and easier, but will also do them indefinitely without the effort, wear and tear that would work havoc with a car of less capabilities.

Who builds "America's Fastest Stock Car"?

DRIVE the new Auburn—if it does not do ALL things YOU demand of a car BETTER than any other, you will not be asked to buy.

LIQUOR TRIAL JURISDICTION UP ON CONTEST

Question As To Judge Blosser's Right To Hear Liquor Cases Is Carried Up.

The question of Judge P. J. Blosser's jurisdiction in sitting as the tribunal in cases brought under the prohibition act, was presented to the district court of appeals, in session in Chillicothe Tuesday to consider cases from other counties.

The jurisdiction question was the only matter of import from Ross county to be considered. L. M. Day and C. B. Rais, defending counsels, and W. M. McKenzie, county prosecutor, argued the question before the court.

Although several cases hinge on the outcome of the question, Day and Rais presented only one case with the understanding that the decision would apply to all. The case chosen for argument was that of Jess Fain, arrested on a charge filed by State Officer Frank Tracy, charging him with selling liquor and on which Fain was convicted before Judge Blosser and fined $200 and costs.

Before all these cases were heard before Judge Blosser, Day and Rais, the attorneys in each of the cases, filed a motion to dismiss the charges on the ground that Judge Blosser had a pecuniary interest in the outcome of the trial because he was a taxpayer of Ross County, Ohio, and because part of the fine and costs went into the general fund of the county.

The motions were based on a fine point brought out in the United States supreme court decision on the now famous appeal case of Edward Tumey, plaintiff in error, versus the State of Ohio, defendant in error. The motions were filed to save the question of jurisdiction so that the attorneys might appeal. In the Tumey case, the supreme court decided that tribunals which had a pecuniary interest in the outcome of the trial could not sit as the court of justice in liquor hearings. The Tumey decision outlawed the courts of justices and mayors on liquor trials.

Judges Wm. H. Middleton and Roscoe J. Mauck were on the bench, Judge Edwin D. Sayre, who is recuperating from a recent illness, still being unable to attend to his official duties.—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

NO NAVAL COMPETITION

If the outlook for a naval agreement at Geneva is brighter, this is mainly because the Governments of England and the United States, and the people behind those Governments are sounder in their feeling and stronger in their influence than the military technicians. Both from London and Washington have come appeals for friendly concessions at Geneva. There can be no question of the sincerity of the British Foreign Minister, Sir Austen Chamberlain, when he said in the House of Commons that a competition of navies between Great Britain and the United States is inconceivable, because war between them is still more inconceivable. This does not mean that the technical naval difficulties—and they are genuine enough—in the way of a treaty are yet got over. Perhaps they cannot be fully. Each power reasonably contends that it must be the judge of its own naval "needs." The task of Geneva is to reconcile, if possible, these conflicting "needs."—New York Times.

The Four Things That Matter.
There are four qualities we look for in a motor oil:

1. It must give perfect lubrication.
2. It must leave the engine in clean condition.
3. It must be economical to use.
4. It must be free from impurities that damage the engine.

On these four counts we have chosen Sinclair Opaline Motor Oils and we recommend them to our customers.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE AND PERSONAL PROPERTY.

In pursuance of the authority given to me, the undersigned Trustee, under the Last Will and Testament of Frank P. Berger, deceased, I will offer at public auction at the front door of the Court House in the City of Circleville, Ohio, on MONDAY, AUGUST 22, 1927, at one o'clock P. M., Eastern Time, the following described real estate and personal property:

FIRST TRACT:
Being a tract of land consisting of about 212 acres of land situated in the Townships of Circleville and Washington, in Pickaway County, Ohio, and being about three miles distant from the City of Circleville, on the Circleville and East Ringgold Pike, which pike runs thru said farm and the buildings on this farm consist of a large 8-room brick house and a large bank barn and other buildings, such as granary and corn cribs; all buildings are in good condition. This farm is well fenced and tiled and is in a high state of cultivation. There is on this farm about 20 acres of fine virgin timber, consisting of oak and walnut trees; and also a good young orchard.

SECOND TRACT:
Being a tract of land of about 168 acres of land situated in Walnut Township, Pickaway County, Ohio, and being on the Walnut Creek Pike about four miles from the City of Circleville, Ohio; this farm is also in a high state of cultivation, being well fenced and tiled. This farm has also a good frame house of eight rooms, a large barn nearly new, and other out-buildings.

THIRD TRACT:

QUEER SIGN WARNS OF DANGEROUS CURVE

The photograph shows an unusual sign which has been erected on a dangerous curve of a mountain highway near Truckee, Calif., where several fatal automobile accidents have happened. The warning sign was erected by a driver who narrowly escaped death as the result of the reckless driving of another motorist.

GIVE CLOSED CAR REGULAR WASHING

Finish of Many Cars Dulled and Scratched by Careless Washer.

A closed car does not collect any more dust and dirt than an open model, but it looks much worse if it is not cleaned regularly. Considering the great increase in the popularity of closed cars, automobile cleanliness is today more important than ever.

Although some manufacturers give special instructions for washing the finish of their cars, a thorough knowledge of correct washing principles is desirable for every car owner.

It's Simple, but—

Washing an automobile is simple, yet the finish of many a car has been dulled and scratched by carelessness in washing. Never wipe off the dust or mud without first flushing off the car body with a stream of water. The water removes much of the foreign matter so that it cannot scratch the finish in later washing operations.

After flushing, go over the body with a sponge and a stream of water. Be sure that the water runs freely through the sponge to carry away the dirt. Wash the sponge frequently, and use it gently. Very cold or very hot water should not be used—a lukewarm temperature is best.

After the washing operation, a soft cloth or chamois should be used to dry the finish. Then a good body polish should be applied with a soft cloth or chamois.

Rancid butter is an effective agent for removing spots from the finish, as is kerosene. Do not polish the nickel parts too often, as frequent rubbing with a polish tends to remove the plating. A good silver polish is the best thing to use on nickel, but generally the nickel can be kept bright by rubbing it with an oily rag. Remember to take particular pains in washing a new car, because the varnish and paint require time to season and are more easily injured than on an older car.

Removing Grease and Oil.

To remove grease and oil, apply gasoline to the parts on a soft cloth. Mud and grease on axles and under the fenders can easily be removed by washing with suds made by dissolving two pounds of soap in a gallon of water. It is best to rinse the washed parts thoroughly.

Texas Farmers Now Own Largest Number of Cars

Corn-belt states which for a number of years held the motor supremacy of the country are now struggling with the South for these laurels. Texas in 1926 heads the list of states having the most cars on farms, while Iowa is in fourth place. The figures are 285,276 and 239,000 respectively. While Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas were crowding the top rungs in respect to the number of cars in proportion to population, here the South and Far West are coming to the forefront. Iowa ranks second in this rating with California taking first honors and Florida coming into third place. Nebraska and Kansas rank sixth and seventh. The shift in the position of the corn-belt states is not due to lack of progress, because the numerical increases in registration have continued. Other states, however, which did not get started as early, are now rushing to the fore.

Whitewash Applied to Catch Auto Thief

At last we have the solution to the problem of catching automobile thieves.

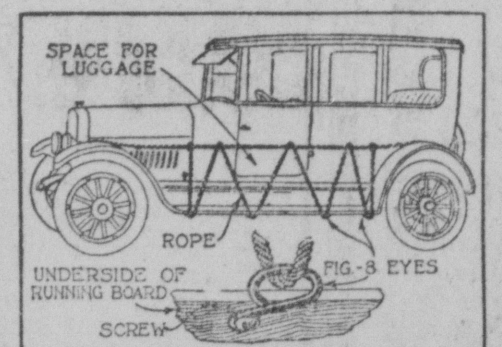

It's offered gratis to all police departments of the world by former Inspector C. Turner, of the London police. Here it is:

Have handy in each police station pails of whitewash and syringes. When a car is reported stolen, distribute the whitewash equipment at the important outposts of the town and when the stolen car is spied, an officer at each side of the road sprays the machine with his whitewash.

It's sure to be identified easily and stopped at the next cross-roads.

least one quarter inch in diameter. By loosening the screws, the eyes can be turned under the running board when not in use.—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

Getting down to brass tacks is all right for anybody but the motorist.

Sixty American railroads now use motor trucks as part of shipping service.

More than 15,000 schools in this country have motor bus transportation for pupils.

Children should be taught never to play around automobiles or to touch any of the levers.

Recent investigation shows that the most dangerous traffic hour of the day is between 5 and 6 p. m.

Throughout the United States there are 51,715 public garages and 83,755 service stations and repair shops.

Barney Oldfield, who has driven more races than any other living driver, was the first man to make 60 miles an hour in an auto.

Motorists who own closed cars should warn their passengers not to lean against the doors. The owner is responsible for the safety of his passengers.

A motorist suggests that a list of Safety-First hints for pedestrians should be displayed on all cars. Placed under the chassis they could be read as the traffic passes over your

SACCO-VANZETTI MUST PAY PENALTY

FOR KILLING PAYMASTER NEAR BOSTON 7 YEARS AGO

The Most Notorious Crime of the Century At Last To be Expiated On the Gallows—Radicals Tried To Enlist Sympathy of Anarchists Thruout the World, Even Demonstrations Were Staged In Their Behalf.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller Wednesday night refused executive clemency to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, sentenced to death for the murder of a shoe factory paymaster and his guard in South Braintree, April 15, 1920.

The governor's decision, announced at 11:25 concluded with these words: "As a result of my investigation I find no sufficient justification for executive intervention."

"I believe with the jury, that these men, Sacco and Vanzetti, were guilty and that they had a fair trial. I furthermore believe that there was no justifiable reason for giving them a new trial."

"I realized, at the outset, that there were many sober minded and conscientious men and women who were genuinely troubled about the guilt or innocence of the accused and the fairness of the trial."

"I believe that I could best reassure these honest doubters by having a committee conduct an investigation fairly independent of mine, their report to be made to me and to be of help in reaching correct conclusions."

"The inquiry that I have conducted has had to do with the following question: Was the jury trial fair? Were the accused entitled to a new trial? Are they guilty or not guilty? As to the first question, complaint has been made that the defendants were prosecuted and convicted because they were anarchists."

"As a matter of fact, the issue of anarchy was brought in by them as an explanation of their suspicious conduct."

"I have consulted with every member of the jury now alive, 11 in number. They considered the judge fair; that he gave them no indication of his own opinion in the case."

"I see no evidence of prejudice in his conduct of the trial."

"The allegation has been made that conditions in the court room were prejudicial to the accused. After careful inquiry of the jury and others I find no evidence to support this allegation."

"I find the jurors were thoroughly honest men and that they were reluctant to find those men guilty, but were forced to do so on the evidence."

"The charge of the judge was satisfactory to the counsel for the accused and no exceptions were taken to it. The supreme judicial court for the commonwealth has considered such of the more than 250 exceptions taken during the course of the trial as counsel for the accused chose to argue and overruled them all, thus establishing that the proceedings were without legal flaw."

"I have read the record and examined many witnesses and the jury men to see from a layman's standpoint whether the trial was fairly conducted. I am convinced that it was."

"I give no weight to the Madeiros confession. It is popularly supposed he confessed to committing this crime. In his testimony to me he could not recall the details or describe the neighborhood. He further more stated that the government had double crossed him and he proposes to double cross the government."

A criminal case which has echoed thruout the world, when Frederick A. Parmenter, paymaster at the shoe factory of the Slater & Morrill Co., in South Braintree, Massachusetts, and his guard, Alexander Berardelli, were shot to death at the factory April 15, 1920. Bandits who had driven to the factory in an automobile seized the factory payroll of several thousand dollars, which Parmenter had brought from a bank, and escaped.

Sacco and Vanzetti entered the case with their arrest on charges of murder May 5, 1920. Almost immediately there started the efforts to spring about their liberation, which bring about their liberation, which and extended to Europe, Central and South America.

There occurred a series of demonstrations in foreign countries by sympathizers with Sacco and Vanzetti, some of them accompanied by the placing of bombs in the vicinity of the American embassies.

Before his indictment for murder Vanzetti had been convicted of the attempted robbery of a shoe factory paymaster in Bridgewater and sentenced to a term of 12 to 15 years.

LAI'D TO REST WITH SOLEMN CEREMONIES

All That Was Mortal of Mrs. B. F. Yates in Beautiful Forest Cemetery.

Solemn and impressive were funeral rites when all that was mortal of Mrs. Benjamin F. Yates was laid to rest in beautiful Forest cemetery.

The casket was surrounded by a rich profusion of the choicest flowers of hothouse and garden, eloquent tributes of loving friends from far and near, and the cheerlessness of the grave was relieved by nature's predominant color and brightened by the season's sweetest blossoms.

The services at the home and graveside were conducted by Rev. E. S. Toensmeier, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Professor M. C. Warren, superintendent of the Pickaway county schools, a personal friend of the family and of the deceased, pronounced an eloquent eulogy on the life and character of the deceased and gave compelling reasons for our belief in the immortality of the soul.

The pallbearers were George W. Littleton, George B. Roth, George G. Adkins, Harry Johnson, Charles H. Werlin and C. C. Chappellear.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were; Mrs. Anna C. White, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. BARNS BURN STORM NEAR LAURELVILLE

Two barns filled with hay, grain and farming implements, owned by Sherman Consolver, were destroyed by fire Tuesday night three miles southeast of Laurelville.

It is thought that the barns were struck by lightning as a storm raged at about the time, 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Consolver's loss is estimated at $3,500. He carried $2,500 insurance in the Hummel & Plum agency.

Valuable Diabetic Foods

SUFFERERS from diabetes, tired of a restricted diet thought that when Dr. F. C. Banting of Toronto, Canada, discovered insulin, they would be able to eat what they liked. Instead, Dr. Banting says that diet is even more important when insulin is used.

In diabetic cases the body is unable to utilize the carbohydrate properly, and the amount a patient is able to take care of each day, must be scientifically weighed and measured. Pure carbohydrates are sugars and starches. Because fruits and vegetables contain very small and dilute amounts of carbohydrates, due to the large proportion of water and fibre they contain, they are of great value in feeding the diabetic. Canners are putting up fruits without sugar, and vegetables without salt. Some that are prepared in this way are beans, apple sauce, blackberries, cherries, peaches, pears, peas, raspberries, strawberries, rhubarb, spinach, tomatoes, cauliflower. Here are recipes for using some of these specially prepared fruits and vegetables.

Some Diabetic Recipes

Strawberry or Peach Whip: Beat the white of one egg stiffly, add crushed fruit, (get the fruits canned without sugar) saccharine and lemon juice to taste and beat again. Serve very cold.

Pear Salad: Place sections of canned pears (get the ones canned without sugar) on crisp lettuce leaves and serve with diabetic dressing. Small balls of cheese, either plain or dipped in chopped walnuts, may be added to this. Diabetic dressing is made by substituting for olive oil and sugar, mineral oil and saccharine in the usual recipe for mayonnaise.

Scalloped Tomatoes: Melt butter and add cracker crumbs, salt and pepper, then the specially canned tomatoes. Brown in oven.

You are always sure there's romance every place except where you happen to be.

This Kitchen Saves Housewives Hours of Unnecessary Labor

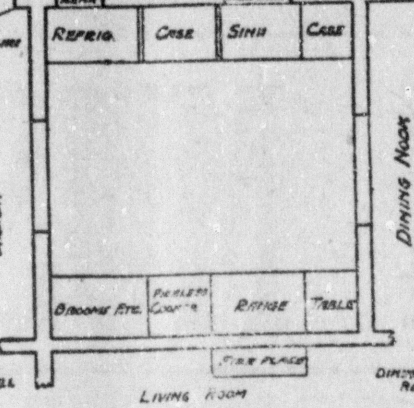

By
DR. MARTHA MANNING
Home Refrigeration Expert

Outside service doors for admitting both ice and food into this model small kitchen do their bit to make caring for a home lighter work for the housewife. No longer must she spend mending hours in doors to make sure that deliveries of supplies are received and cared for properly.

The refrigerator is so placed that its outside delivery door is near the rear entrance. This convenience is a feature of ready-made homes now being built, and one that none should be without. It has two great advantages: The housewife need never enter the kitchen and though the entire family be absent for a day or a week the refrigerator may be used regularly and food kept in perfect condition. Home refrigeration of this kind is almost automatic, as there is no mechanism to require supervision or get out of order. A delivery service door for groceries is another device for saving time and labor. It can well be located near the ice service door, and relieves the housewife of paying special attention to these deliveries.

This kitchen offers the utmost in utility and convenience. Not only does it enable the housewife to absent herself during hours when the kitchen ordinarily would require her attention, but it makes for comfortable and efficient work. Time and effort are saved by grouping the refrigerator with the sink and cupboards on the cool side of the room, where food may be prepared. The range and table on the opposite side form another complete operating unit for cooking.

Tung Oil Preparedness

IN view of the present disturbances in China and their probable serious effect upon American imports from that country, it is fortunate for the paint and varnish industry of the United States that tung oil trees are now being grown with increasing success in Florida and other Southern states. For tung oil is used in America as the base of practically all modern waterproof, quick-drying varnishes. It is pressed from the nuts contained in this tree's large fruit.

Hitherto, about 80% of China's tung oil output has been imported into this country. Anticipating a crisis when it might become impossible to import it in sufficient quantities, some tung oil tree seed was obtained about twenty years ago from China, and propagated into seedlings which were distributed in several Southern states.

The most interesting results were obtained from some trees grown at the University of Florida, Gainesville. These are now nearly 30 feet high, with a spread of about 28 feet. Nearly 100,000 seedlings from them were planted by the Educational Bureau of the American Paint and Varnish Manufacturers' Association, with the idea of showing the farmers the industry's complete faith in the project. As a result, there are now about 3,000 acres of tung oil trees in America. It is estimated that about 50,000 acres might, within a few years, provide sufficient tung oil for the entire American industry.

Lumbang oil trees, a different species of the tung oil tree, flourish in the Philippines and Hawaiian Islands, but no systematic attempt has yet been made to collect the crop.

Delightful Cold Summer Drinks Made With Milk and Fruit Juices

The greater demand for liquid in the summer time, is to meet a physiological need. The heat regulating system of our bodies requires water for its functioning. We demand drinks that quench the thirst, and, at the same time, by their coolness lower the body temperature. Drinks may not only fulfill these requirements, but serve as carriers of food material as well. Such drinks are ideal for summer use.

The appetite lags in the summer time, though the need for food, of course, still exists. At this season, we are more apt to be careless in selecting our food than in the colder weather and an adequacy of some of the food essentials may be lacking.

A proper selection of summer drinks will be a great help in overcoming this neglect. Cold combinations of fruit juices and milk are delightful ways of introducing these essentials and at the same time supplying the extra liquid that the body needs.

Orange Nog

2 cups orange juice
1 1/2 cups chilled evaporated milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups ice water

Dissolve sugar in orange juice and chill. When ready to serve pour orange juice slowly into milk diluted with water. Shake vigorously in a mason fruit jar. Serve ice cold. Yield: 6 servings.

Iced Cocoa

3 tbsp. cocoa (2 tsp. for children)
2 tbsp. sugar
1/2 cup hot water
Few grains salt
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk diluted with 1 1/2 cups water
1/4 tsp. vanilla
Scald the diluted milk in a double boiler. Mix cocoa, sugar and salt and add the hot water. Cook over a low flame—ten to fifteen minutes, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Add the scalded diluted milk, return to double boiler and continue cooking for ten minutes. Add vanilla. Chill and serve with whipped cream. Whipped cream sauce and chopped nuts may top iced cocoa. Yield: 4 servings.

Hungarian Punch

Juice of 2 lemons
2 tsp. tea
1/2 tsp. almond extract
1 quart cold water
Pour cold water over tea and let stand for five hours. Strain, add lemon juice and almond extract, chill before serving. Yield: 4 servings.

Egg Nog

2 eggs
Pinch salt
3 tbsp. sugar
1/4 cup berry or cherry juice
2 cups ice cold evaporated milk diluted with 2 1/2 cups water
Few grains nutmeg
Add salt to egg white and beat till stiff. Beat yolk and add fruit juice and sugar. Combine diluted milk and egg. Pour into a tall glass, sprinkle top with chopped nuts and serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

Prune Nog

1 1/2 cups water

CRYSTAL MIST GASOLINE and OPALINE OILS

A guess in motor lubrication is always a hazard. The thing to do is to make sure. Why not drive around in your car - let us demonstrate how wear affects economical lubrication. Then let us recommend exactly the Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil you should be using to give your motor its proper lubrication.

We carry five grades of Sinclair Opaline Motor Oils. For your car--one of these five is better than the other four. It depends on the condition of your engine--the length of service--the degree of wear. The Sinclair Recommendation Index determines just the grade of Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil your car should have today.

"Rialto's" Real Meaning
The word "Rialto" is a corruption
of the two words "Ribo Alto," which literally mean "deep river." The corrupted form was applied as the name
of an island in the Adriatic sea, which
became the business center of the group of islands occupied by the city of Venice. By the process of the association of ideas the term "Rialto" is used as the synonym for the business
center of the city.

Lesson for August 7

DAVID SPARES SAUL

LESSON TEXT—I Sam. chap. 26.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be not overcome of
evil, but overcome evil with good.
PRIMARY TOPIC—David's Kind-
ness to His Enemy.
JUNIOR TOPIC—David Shows Mercy.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-
IC—How to Treat Those Who Wrong
Us.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-
IC—Overcoming Evil With Good.

I. Saul in Pursuit of David (vv. 1-3).
Ever since David took his departure
from Jonathan (ch. 20), when that
crowning act of friendship was shown,
Saul had been hunting him as a wild
animal. He now pursues him with 3,000 chosen men. David flees from place to place and is in hiding as an
outlaw. Sometimes he is in the enemy's country doing disreputable
things. This is the period of his schooling, which fitted him to be the future eminent king. It was a bitter
period in his life, but God sent him to
this school and adapted the instruction to his needs. David could never have been the broad man that he
was had he not been prepared in this crucible of bitter experience. He learned many lessons, among which
may be mentioned:

1. His own weakness. It was necessary that he be humbled under the sense of his infirmities. Before any one is fit to be raised to a position of prominence he must be made to know
his limitations and weaknesses. Unless a man has learned this lesson,
sudden elevation to power will utterly
ruin him.

2. His dependence upon God. David's many miraculous escapes caused
him to realize that the Lord had redeemed him out of his adversity.

3. He learned the country and people over which he was to rule. By
knowing the grievous afflictions which Saul had heaped upon the people, he
could sympathize and remove them.

4. He learned the magnanimity of self-control. This a man must know
before he can be a true king. He that ruleth his spirit is better than he that
taketh a city (Prov. 16:32).

II. Saul in David's Hands (vv. 4-20).

1. David sends out spies (v. 4).
This he did to find out whether Saul
was come in very deep.

2. David in Saul's camp (vv. 5-11).
He took with him Abishai and went
in the night to where Saul was sleep-
ing. Abishai asked to be allowed to kill Saul, but David forbade him because Saul was the Lord's anointed.

3. David takes Saul's spear and cruze of water (vv. 12, 13). Once before at Engedi (chap. 24) David spared Saul's life. Now again he was at his mercy. This David did that he might show tangible evidence to the
king that he had no evil intent.

4. David taunts Abner, the king's bodyguard (vv. 14-16). He calls to Abner and taunts him for his listless-
ness—his failure to watch over the Lord's anointed, the evidence of which is the cruze and spear in his hands.

5. David reasons with Saul (vv.
17-20). David reasoned with Saul,
showing that he had nothing but good
intentions toward the king. He asked
that he would show what wrong he
had done, or what evil intent was in his heart. If the Lord was directing Saul he was willing to appease His wrath with an offering. If Saul was only hunting him because wicked men
were urging him, a curse should be pronounced upon them. David is very humble and begs Saul to relent, for
surely if he had any wicked purpose
he would not have saved his life twice
when the Lord had placed Saul wholly
at his mercy. David recognized the fact that the Lord had delivered Saul
into his hands not to kill, but to save.
He did not kill, neither did he allow
his servants to kill.

III. Saul's Confession (vv. 21-25).
1. He confessed that he had sinned.
The sad feature about his confession
is that it lacked conviction, for he
went right on sinning.

2. He confessed that he had played
the fool and erred exceedingly. We see about us daily many using such
expressions, but still they go on repeating their sins. David shows his magnanimity of spirit, however, in delivering the cruze and spear to Saul's servant. He knew that Saul's
confession was not genuine, so he was afraid to go near. He still appeals to Saul's kindness to him, and they part
never to meet again.

FIND AUDUBON BIRD
PAINTINGS ON WALLPriceless Art Treasure May Be Lost.

New York.—Hitherto undiscovered paintings of bird life by John James Audubon, world famous ornithologist and artist, who died in 1851, are believed to be concealed beneath paint and dingy wall paper on the plaster walls of his old studio in the Audubon mansion at One Hundred and Fifth street and the Hudson river. It was learned recently.

James McGrath, a railroad worker who occupies the first floor of the now rickety frame house and uses the former studio for a kitchen, uncovered the paintings several years ago. Having no idea of their origin or their value he covered them over and perhaps obliterated them forever with lead paint and wall paper.

McGrath, who has lived with his family in the old Audubon house for seventeen years, cheerfully admitted that he had painted out the scores of bird pictures and sketches which had adorned his kitchen walls.

Calls Them Right Pretty.

"Sure," he said, "I remember them well. Soon after we moved here I took off the dirty old wall paper in the kitchen—several layers of it—and underneath on the plaster were all kinds of bird pictures. Every sort of bird I ever saw and a whole lot I never saw, painted in all kinds of colors. There was a whole bunch of them and a bowl of fruit painted right there over the sink. They were right pretty."

"About two years ago, though, I got tired of looking at them, so I got a can of good lead paint with a little linseed mixed in and put a nice coat of paint all over the walls. A little later I got tired of the paint and put up that green wall paper. Those birds are dead now all right—flown away for good."

Alexander A. Kelly, an expert on the restoration of paintings, made an examination of the walls of the studio a few days ago. From such study of the plaster as he could make where the wall paper was peeled or abraded, he concluded that the paint used by McGrath had aged to such a point that its removal might at the same time remove or deface the paintings beneath. Whether any recovery or restoration is possible cannot be learned without a thorough examination.

Reginald Bolton Polhem, whose grandfather was a close friend of Audubon, and who himself is a historian and an authority on Audubon's life, was questioned about the paintings.

"McGrath's statement checks exactly with what I have heard from my grandfather and with rumors which from time to time have come to me," Mr. Bolton said. "Audubon was fond, my grandfather said, of covering the walls of his studio with bird sketches, often as well executed as his best work. And I have heard that at the time of his death through some unpardonable oversight, these sketches were papered over."

"I have often thought of trying to confirm the report, but have been in other parts of the country. Information McGrath's gave statement in the matter seems conclusive. If the pictures cannot be restored it is a tragedy."

Mansion to Be Destroyed.
The memory of Audubon is revered by thousands of bird lovers and naturalists throughout this country and abroad. The Audubon societies, the junior department of which alone is said to have several hundred thousand members, was organized in his honor in 1896. His drawings of birds in a complete series of life-sized colored figures, published in his "Birds in America" in 1838, marked an epoch in ornithology. Original copies of this work, in good condition, bring today thousands of dollars.

The Audubon mansion, nearly a century old, is doomed to destruction within a few months by the straightening of Riverside drive at One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street. Audubon park and "Garage Village" will be eliminated and a series of modern apartment houses will rise upon the site.

Justice of King's BenchRanks High in Dignity

London.—There are few positions of greater dignity in England than that of justice of the king's bench. When on circuit the justice is treated with the ceremony usually accorded to royalty. He is deemed the first man in the county, and the bells of the circuit tower ring and a bugle announces the opening of his assize court.

Yet the justice's salary has been at the same figure for nearly two centuries. When it was first set in the eighteenth century at £5,000 a year it was deemed a princely recompense, but with the decrease in the value of money and the present British income tax it is considered not so generous.

Firemen, Save My Cow,Farmer's Call—They Did

Jefferson City, Mo.—The most unusual order the fire department has received came recently when Jim Roark telephoned:

"Come rescue my cow."

The department made a hasty run, expecting a fire at the big dairy barn and found that the order had come after the cow had become mired in the mud.

Only the cow's head and shoulders were showing above the mud. The animal was finally removed.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION WAS INTERESTING*Storm Water Sewers to be Built—Fines Collected—Ordinances Passed.

The city council met in regular session Wednesday evening, August 3, with President John C. Goeller, presiding and the following members present; Baker, Kline, Landenberger, Leist, Marion, Shaner.

Mr. Baker, as chairman, reported that the committee had investigated the matter of painting the Memorial hall and would now recommend that the proper officers make a contract for said work. Mr. Baker also reported that the committee had considered the request of Amos Wilkerson for permission to construct a curb along his premises on Pickaway street, so would now recommend that permission be granted, providing the curb is placed as near the lot line as possible. On motion of Mr. Leist this report was received.

Mr. Leist, as chairman, reported that the committee had investigated the application of the Norfolk and Western railway to construct a switch over Ohio street and Maplewood avenue in order to reach the grounds of the Mid-West Box company, and would report by returning the ordinance providing for this improvement with the recommendation that it be passed. On motion of Mr. Baker this report was received.

Mayor Fitzpatrick reported fines, licenses and fees collected during the month of July in the sum of $559.40 and on motion of Mr. Marion this report was received and placed on file.

Service Director Schneider reported that he had taken up the matter of repairing South Court street, with the officials of the railroads, and on motion of Mr. Shaner the service director was requested to ask the railway company to repair the entire width of Court street from the end of the paved street to a point two feet south of the south gate. On motion of Mr. Marion the service committee reported the matter of investigating the application of the Citizens Telephone company for an increase in rates, was then referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council.

A communication from the city auditor reporting the amount of the duplicate of the city in connection with the construction of storm water sewers on Pickaway street and on Pickaway, Ohio, Washington and Clinton streets and Half avenue was received and placed on file as was also a communication that the estimated life of the improvements of a storm water sewer on Pickaway and Mill streets and on Pickaway, Ohio, Washington and Clinton streets and Half avenue would be twenty-five years, was received and placed on record.

An ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds of the city for the purpose of improving Pickaway street by the construction of a storm water sewer thereon and a lateral on Mill street, in the sum of $6750 was passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds of the city for the purpose of improving Pickaway, Ohio, Washington and Clinton streets and Half avenue by the construction of a storm water sewer in the sum of $16,750 was passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance granting the Norfolk & Western Railway company the right to construct a switch over Maplewood avenue and Ohio street was passed under suspension of the rules.

Mr. Shaner offered a motion which was seconded, that the question as to whether the city will accept the bequest made by Frank P. Berger for the building of a hospital in the city be referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council. This motion carried and President Goeller appointed Mr. Shaner as chairman of this committee.

The matter of extending the city water mains on Clinton street and Weldon avenue was referred to the committee on department of public service.

"Auto's" Derivation

The word automobile was taken from the Greek "auto," meaning self, plus the Latin "mobilis," meaning movable. It is of French origin and is an adjective used as a noun. In its first usage it was applied only to pleasure vehicles or carriages. The term was created to meet the sudden demand for a word to describe the horseless, or self-propelled vehicle.

PICKAWAY CLUB PROGRESSING.

The Pickaway Township 4-H Clothing club held its eighth meeting at the Pickaway township centralized school building all day July 29.

With the view in mind to practice demonstrations we worked diligently all day.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Virginia Anderson, and for the first time this year the roll-call found two absentees. The devotionals were in charge of the leader, Miss Nettie S. Rader. Plans were made to go to the club campfire, picnic which was held August 3. The Penny drill increased the amount in our treasury 26 cents. An order of 30 cents was drawn on the treasury for drafting paper. The meeting adjourned to meet all day, August 5, at the school building.

When the Old Engine Lacks Pep

When you feel the lack of full compression in the motor of your car—you need to change to a heavier grade of Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. As cars add mileage, engines wear. Wear in the cylinders must be corrected with heavier oil to seal the increased clearance, unless the clearances are so great that you should have the rings refitted or new pistons. Let us help you determine the proper oil.

Lunch was served by the regular August committee and a social hour followed.

Home Variety Modern Idea

There are scores of excavated homes in Pompeii, varying somewhat in size, but almost identical in the arrangement of rooms and courtyards. Except for minor details, one may be said, in describing any particular house, to be describing them all. The modern home is quite the opposite of this.

AMUSEMENTS

The stimulating vigor of Zane Grey stories plus an invariable spirit of romance that fires the imagination make her genuine entertainment when they are translated to the screen.

So it has proved with "Drums of the Desert" the latest of the Zane Greys adapted from his "Desert Bound" to reach the Met theater. And like most of the really worth-while Zane Grey films, this is a Paramount picture directed by John Waters, whose reputation has been firmly established by such productions as "Man of the Forest" and "The Mysterious Rider."

While in no sense a sequel to "The Vanishing American" that classic of the American Indian "Drums of the Desert" is very much in the nature of a successor. It was made, we are told, in exactly the same locale. In the current production, while the story is basically concerned with the Indians, in that the machinations of unscrupulous whites to obtain possession of the Indian oil lands afford the plot's menace, the action is seen thru the eyes of the white principals. There is John Curry, friend of the Indians, who manfully endeavors to frustrate a conspiracy against them; and then there are Mary Manton and Professor Manton, her father, innocent bystanders who are drawn into the vortex together with their companions, Painless Perkins and Hi-Lo.

Always in the background are the Indians, guarding their sacred altars from invasion.

Walter Baxter as John Curry is refreshingly convincing. The somewhat strange to see Warner Baxter in western garb, it is vastly becoming. To his characterization as the friend of the red men he brings a sympathetic interest. Marietta Miller, it will be remembered, was brought to this country thru an arrangement with UFA. It's a bit ironical that her first screen role should be in so typical an American drama as "Drums of the Desert" but she seems to have enjoyed her initiation thoroly. Ford Sterling enacts his usual funny self while Wallace MacDonald, the heavy, is an effective as always.

GOOD WATER FOR FARM HOMES

Is An Absolute Necessity—Must Be Pure and Free of Disease Germs.

Water is necessary to life. Water free from disease-producing agents is necessary to health. With the exception of the method of disposing of human excreta, the farm water supply has generally a more important bearing on the health of the household than any other single detail in daily life.

Water is used for many purposes on the farm. As far as possible it should be suitable for all purposes for which it is to be used. Its most important and vital use, however, is for drinking and cooking, and most important of its qualities are those of healthfulness and safety. It is desirable that the water be clear and cool, that it have no objectional odor or taste, and that it be free from any excess of mineral substances which make it hard and unsuitable for washing. It is essential that it be free from agents which produce disease.

In providing a new water supply, or improving an existing supply, great care should be taken to locate, construct, and operate the supply so that no human or animal filth can in any way enter it and pollute the water.

The United States Public Health Service has issued a bulletin on Good Water for Farm Homes, which contains helpful advice in protecting the water supply of farm homes from pollution. Anyone desiring a copy of this publication, should write to the "Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.," and ask for a copy of Public Health Bulletin No. 70.

Vitruvius mentions that floors of oak were nailed with iron nails. Oak floors today are nailed with steel cut or wire cut nails—through the side tongue—known as blind nailing.

Wool Sold as Cheese

A previous experience caused a recent auction of wool in London to be postponed because of fog. On one occasion, in 1912, fog was so thick that a large quantity of wool was sold as cheese, the wool market being closed, and so it will be henceforth during heavy fogs, according to a correspondent of the Sydney Bulletin.

The "Right" Oil May Be Wrong

The oil you always use may not be the right oil for your car today. And the right oil for today may not be correct a year from today. As your car grows older—your engine clearances increase. And you must change to heavier bodied oil.

SUMMER

Is the Best Time To Reduce One's Weight.

Now is the time for all women who wish to reduce to make their most determined efforts, declares Eileen Bourne, beauty expert, in an article in this week's Liberty. "Hot weather is the stout woman's friend," the writer asserts. "In winter," Miss Bourne explains, "it requires great effort to exercise in the midst of bad weather or to forego buttered toast with afternoon tea and hot puddings with dinner. But in summer, exercise is attractive and appetite is at its lowest ebb. "One good workout a day," the writer continues, "removes soft and flabby curves surely and soundly. As for that reduction diet, it is positively a pleasure in summer. Non-fattening green vegetables are so fresh and abundant that one can almost live solely upon them. Furthermore, fattening things are too closely associated with the heat they generate to tempt one."

SCIENCE

Studies Pork As Source of Protein Food.

According to experiments by H. H. Mitchell of the University of Illinois, reported in a recent issue of the Journal of Home Economics, ham, along with other pork cuts, ranks high as a source of protein. This is explained by Professor Mitchell as being due to the relatively low amount of connective tissue in the ham. There was a time when protein was protein, no matter what its source—the possibility of a difference in quality was not taken into account. Now science recognizes that there is a decided difference in the biological value of protein from different foods. It is not enough just to include protein in the diet, it must be protein which is of good quality.

All animal foods are superior to vegetable foods as sources of protein in the diet. Because such vegetables as peas and beans are rich in crude protein, we are deceived into accepting them as "meat substitutes." Professor Mitchell says that these foods are relatively unimportant as sources of protein because they lose so much of their nitrogen in the digestion processes.

Professor Mitchell further says that the meats and meat products are pre-eminent among the animal foods as sources of protein. Although milk and eggs do not lose so much nitrogen in digestion, yet the high protein content of meats more than makes up for their greater losses in metabolism. And among the different meats, ham ranks at the top.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

About twenty-eight members of the Business and Professional Women's Club were delightfully entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. H. B. Given on the Lancaster pike. Mrs. Mary G. Morris presided at the meeting which was called to order at 7:30 o'clock. The business meeting was short and the time following was spent in singing the club songs. A committee composed of Mrs. Anna Chandler, Mrs. Ella Lindsey, Mrs. Irma Gehres, Mrs. Given and Miss Carrie Lamaster served delicious refreshments.

Seven members of the Kappa Sigma Pi fraternity of the M. E. Church held a meeting last evening along Darby creek on the George Gerhardt farm. A basket picnic was enjoyed by these members; Foster Bales, Elliot Barnhill, Clayton Young, Herbert Hammel, Charles Eitel, John Neff, Azel Laughlin. The meeting next week will be in charge of Foster Bales and Clayton Young, time and place will be announced later.

Who Killed Cock Robin?

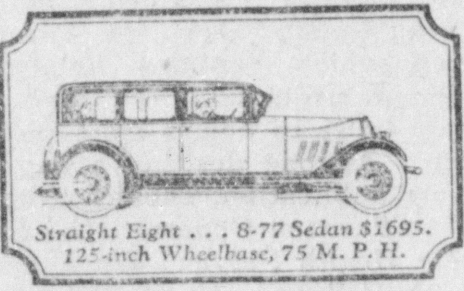

Two or three automobile manufacturers today claim to build "America's Fastest Stock Car."

Auburn claims 80 miles an hour for its 8-88 stock car. (This claim has no strings tied to it).

Auburn proves its 8-88 stock car is capable of 90 miles per hour.

At Salem, N. H. Speedway July 4th an Auburn 8-88 won the 100 mile stock car race with the remarkable average of 89.19 miles per hour. As a contender, was a German make of car costing $13,000 of much greater piston displacement and equipped with super-charger.

Also in a recent stock car race, open to the entire automobile industry, at Atlantic City Speedway under American Automobile Association sanction, the two leading cars finished only one-fifth of one second apart... 75 miles in about 52 minutes. Amazing

Straight Eight... 8-77 Sedan $1695.
125-inch Wheelbase, 75 M. P. H.

performance for both cars. Especially for the Auburn stock car, the list price of which is $1500 less.

Such performance proves conclusively that Auburn cars are perfectly engineered and built or something would have prevented this sustained performance.

A stock car that is capable of sustained, high-speed with unfaltering efficiency and without injuring itself, will not only do your ordinary requirements smoother and easier, but will also do them indefinitely without the effort, wear and tear that would work havoc with a car of less capabilities.

Who builds "America's Fastest Stock Car"?

DRIVE the new Auburn —if it does not do ALL things YOU demand of a car BETTER than any other, you will not be asked to buy.

LIQUOR TRIAL JURISDICTION UP ON CONTEST

Question As To Judge Blosser's Right To Hear Liquor Cases Is Carried Up.

The question of Judge P. J. Blosser's jurisdiction in sitting as the tribunal in cases brought under the prohibition act, was presented to the district court of appeals, in session in Chillicothe Tuesday to consider cases from other counties.

The jurisdiction question was the only matter of import from Ross county to be considered. L. M. Day and C. B. Rais, defending counsels, and W. M. McKenzie, county prosecutor, argued the question before the court.

Although several cases hinge on the outcome of the question, Day and Rais presented only one case with the understanding that the decision would apply to all. The case chosen for argument was that of Jess Fain, arrested on a charge filed by State Officer Frank Tracy, charging him with selling liquor and on which Fain was convicted before Judge Blosser and fined $200 and costs.

Before all these cases were heard before Judge Blosser, Day and Rais, the attorneys in each of the cases, filed a motion to dismiss the charges on the ground that Judge Blosser had a pecuniary interest in the outcome of the trial because he was a taxpayer of Ross County, Ohio, and because part of the fine and costs went into the general fund of the county.

The motions were based on a fine point brought out in the United States supreme court decision on the now famous appeal case of Edward Tamey, plaintiff in error, versus the State of Ohio, defendant in error. The motions were filed to save the question of jurisdiction so that the attorneys might appeal. In the Tamey case, the supreme court decided that tribunals which had a pecuniary interest in the outcome of the trial could not sit as the court of justice in liquor hearings. The Tamey decision outlawed the courts of justices and mayors on liquor trials.

Judges Wm. H. Middleton and Roscoe J. Mauck were on the bench, Judge Edwin D. Sayre, who is recuperating from a recent illness, still being unable to attend to his official duties.—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

NO NAVAL COMPETITION

If the outlook for a naval agreement at Geneva is brighter, this is mainly because the Governments of England and the United States, and the people behind those Governments are sounder in their feeling and stronger in their influence than the military technicians. Both from London and Washington have come appeals for friendly concessions at Geneva. There can be no question of the sincerity of the British Foreign Minister, Sir Austen Chamberlain, when he said in the House of Commons that a competition of navies between Great Britain and the United States is inconceivable, because war between them is still more inconceivable. This does not mean that the technical naval difficulties—and they are genuine enough—in the way of a treaty are yet got over. Perhaps they cannot be fully. Each power reasonably contends that it must be the judge of its own naval "needs." The task of Geneva is to reconcile, if possible, these conflicting "needs."—New York Times.

LOCAL MEN WITNESSED SHOOTING

Of An Oil Well at Crooksville Tuesday—160 Quarts of Nitroglycerin Used.

Messrs. Robert L. Brehmer and Frank Hamilton motored to Crooksville, O., Tuesday to witness the shooting of an oil well in that vicinity, on the farm of an undertaker who had organized a small company; 160 quarts of nitroglycerin were used; owing to the close proximity of the well to another property it was necessary to muffle the top of the casing; an excellent flow of oil was secured.

The Most Amazing Quality in Chevrolet History

Offering the most amazing quality in Chevrolet history, today's Chevrolet is the most popular gear-shift car the world has ever known.

Quality in design! Quality in construction! Quality in appearance and performance! Never before has a low-priced car possessed them to such an amazing degree—because no other low-priced car combines the progressiveness of Chevrolet and the diversified experience, the vast resources and marvelous facilities of General Motors.

Go with the crowds and study today's Chevrolet. Mark well the aristocratic beauty of its lines—the superbly executed details of its bodies by Fisher.

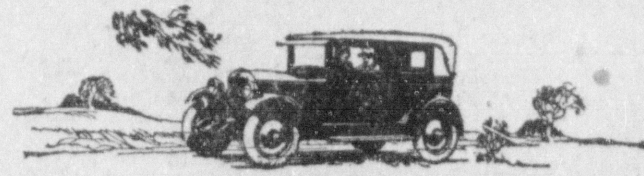

Then go for a ride! Revel in the thrilling spurt that results when you "step on the gas." Delight in the smooth operation—the swift sweep of the passing miles. Marvel at the way the car hugs the road, the ease with which it obeys the steering wheel, the promptness with which it responds to the brakes!

Here is quality obtainable at prices which reflect the savings of tremendous production and which emphasizes the willingness to share these savings with the public.

Here is the most desired object of American life today; a car of amazing quality—for everybody, everywhere!

The Four Things That Matter.
There are four qualities we look for in a motor oil:

1. It must give perfect lubrication.
2. It must leave the engine in clean condition.
3. It must be economical to use.
4. It must be free from impurities that damage the engine.

On these four counts we have chosen Sinclair Opaline Motor Oils and we recommend them to our customers.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE AND PERSONAL PROPERTY.

In pursuance of the authority given to me by the undersigned Trustee, under the Last Will and Testament of Frank P. Berger, deceased, I will offer at public auction at the front door of the Court House in the City of Circleville, Ohio, on MONDAY, AUGUST 22, 1927, at one o'clock P. M., Eastern Time, the following described real estate and personal property:

FIRST TRACT:—Being a tract of land consisting of about 212 acres of land situated in the Township of Circleville, Ohio, and being about three miles distant from the City of Circleville on the Circleville and East Ringgold Pike, which pike runs thru said farm and the buildings on this farm consist of a large 8-room brick house and a large bank barn and other buildings, such as granary and corn crib; all buildings are in good condition. This farm is well fenced and tiled and is in a high state of cultivation. There is on this farm about 20 acres of fine virgin timber, consisting of oak and walnut trees; and also a good young orchard.

SECOND TRACT:—Being a tract of land of about 168 acres of land situated in Walnut Township, Pickaway County, Ohio, and being on the Walnut Creek Pike about four miles from the City of Circleville, Ohio; this farm is also in a high state of cultivation, being well fenced and tiled. This farm has also a good frame house of eight rooms, a large barn nearly new, and other out-buildings.

THIRD TRACT:—Being the undivided one-half of Lot No. 1796 and five feet off of the south side of Lot No. 1795 in L. N. Abernethy's North End Addition to said City of Circleville, Ohio. This property was the residence of the late Frank P. Berger, deceased, and is located on North Court street in said City. This property consists of a fine 8-room modern dwelling, being built by Mrs. L. N. Abernethy and is in splendid condition and has all modern conveniences. There is also on this lot a good garage.

FOURTH TRACT:—Being Lots 1798 and 1799 in L. N. Abernethy's North End Addition to said City of Circleville, Ohio, and 35 of an acre of land adjoining said two lots; these lots are west of residence property above described and said lots front on Highland avenue.

I will also offer 5 shares of The First National Bank Stock of Circleville, Ohio, 10 shares of The American Mortgage Company of Cincinnati, Ohio,
And one share of The Pickaway Grain Company stock of Circleville, Ohio.

Possession of the farm will be given this fall for the purpose of sowing the wheat, and full possession on March 1, 1928.

TERMS OF SALE:—CASH; reasonable time can be made for the payment; a 10% cash deposit will be required on the day of sale.

QUEER SIGN WARNS OF DANGEROUS CURVE

The photograph shows an unusual sign which has been erected on a dangerous curve of a mountain highway near Truckee, Calif., where several fatal automobile accidents have happened. The warning sign was erected by a driver who narrowly escaped death as the result of the reckless driving of another motorist.

GIVE CLOSED CAR REGULAR WASHING

Finish of Many Cars Dulled and Scratched by Careless Washer.

A closed car does not collect any more dust and dirt than an open model, but it looks much worse if it is not cleaned regularly. Considering the great increase in the popularity of closed cars, automobile cleanliness is today more important than ever.

Although some manufacturers give special instructions for washing the finish of their cars, a thorough knowledge of correct washing principles is desirable for every car owner.

It's Simple, but—

Washing an automobile is simple, yet the finish of many a car has been dulled and scratched by carelessness in washing. Never wipe off the dust or mud without first flushing off the car body with a stream of water. The water removes much of the foreign matter so that it cannot scratch the finish in later washing operations.

After flushing, go over the body with a sponge and a stream of water. Be sure that the water runs freely through the sponge to carry away the dirt. Wash the sponge frequently, and use it gently. Very cold or very hot water should not be used—a lukewarm temperature is best.

After the washing operation, a soft cloth or chamois should be used to dry the finish. Then a good body polish should be applied with a soft cloth or chamois.

Rancid butter is an effective agent for removing spots from the finish, as is kerosene. Do not polish the nickel parts too often, as frequent rubbing with a polish tends to remove the plating. A good silver polish is the best thing to use on nickel, but generally the nickel can be kept bright by rubbing it with an oily rag. Remember to take particular pains in washing a new car, because the varnish and paint require time to season and are more easily injured than on an older car.

Removing Grease and Oil.

To remove grease and oil, apply gasoline to the parts on a soft cloth. Mud and grease on axles and under the fenders can easily be removed by washing with suds made by dissolving two pounds of soap in a gallon of water. It is best to rinse the washed parts thoroughly.

Texas Farmers Now Own Largest Number of Cars

Corn-belt states which for a number of years held the motor supremacy of the country are now struggling with the South for these laurels. Texas in 1926 heads the list of states having the most cars on farms, while Iowa is in fourth place. The figures are 285,276 and 229,000 respectively. While Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas were crowding the top rungs in respect to the number of cars in proportion to population, here the South and Far West are coming to the forefront. Iowa ranks second in this rating with California taking first honors and Florida coming in third place. Nebraska and Kansas rank sixth and seventh. The shift in the position of the corn-belt states is not due to lack of progress, because the numerical increases in registration have continued. Other states, however, which did not get started as early, are now rushing to the fore.

Whitewash Applied to Catch Auto Thief

At last we have the solution to the problem of catching automobile thieves.

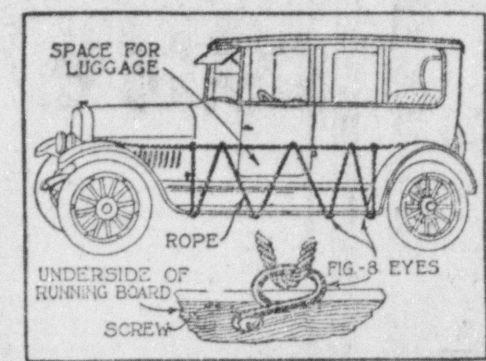

It's offered gratis to all police departments of the world by former Inspector C. Turner, of the London Police. Here it is:

Have handy in each police station pails of whitewash and syringes. When a car is reported stolen, distribute the whitewash equipment at the important outposts of the town and when the stolen car is spied, an officer at each side of the road sprays the machine with his whitewash.

It's sure to be identified easily and stopped at the next crossroads.

Carry Bulky Luggage on Running Board of Auto

You can lash considerable bulky luggage to the running board of your car by the use of a rope arranged as shown in the illustration. The eyes should be bent up from an iron rod at least one quarter inch in diameter. By loosening the screws, the eyes can be turned under the running board when not in use.—Popular Science Monthly.

Several Special Eyes and Some Rope Arranged in This Way Will Hold Considerable Luggage.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

Getting down to brass tacks is all right for anybody but the motorist.

Sixty American railroads now use motor trucks as part of shipping service.

More than 15,000 schools in this country have motor bus transportation for pupils.

Children should be taught never to play around automobiles or to touch any of the levers.

Recent investigation shows that the most dangerous traffic hour of the day is between 5 and 6 p. m.

Throughout the United States there are 51,715 public garages and 83,775 service stations and repair shops.

Barney Oldfield, who has driven in more races than any other living driver, was the first man to make 60 miles an hour in an auto.

Motorists who own closed cars should warn their passengers not to lean against the doors. The owner is responsible for the safety of his passengers.

A motorist suggests that a list of Safety-First hints for pedestrians should be displayed on all cars. Placed under the chassis they could be read as the traffic passes over you.
